NEW KIDNAPING LAW INTRODUCED IN LEGISLATURE

Sunday Tour Opens Winter Sport Season

Ski Club Proposes To Hold Junior Match On Feb. 7

First organized out-of-door activity of the Placerville Ski Club for the current season will be a ski tour, to be held Sunday starting from Kyburz resort at 10 o'clock.

All members of the club and any others interested in winter sports are invited to participate in a tour to China Flat and return.

Those who attend are asked to take their lunch with them.

Arrangements for the tour were completed at the regular meeting of the club on Thursday night at the courthouse, at which it was also voted to ask the California State Ski Association to sanction February 7 as the date for an invitational junior tournament at the club's Pacific Hill.

The tournament, if sanctioned, will include jumping, cross-country racing and other field events, and will probably be the only junior tournament in this section of the state this year.

Floyd Poole has been named head of the committee in charge with John Roy as chief of hill; and Gary Stennett, Gunnar Forssbeck, Don Goodrich, and Elinor Tagtmeier as assistants.

The club voted to confine its meetings to the second and fourth Thursday evenings of the month and the next meeting will be on January 28.

President Martin announced the appointment of the first aid and ski patrol team for the year with Floyd Poole as captain; and Gary Stennett, Bob Carpenter, Jr., and Charles Morgan.

"These four members, owing to their being almost immediately available by telephone and because of their location in relation to the snow country, skiing ability and first aid training have been selected by the club to cooperate with the authorities in rendering assistance to anyone who becomes lost or injured in the snow country," President Martin said.

The team will outline its own method of operation in support of this purpose.

JUNIOR CLASS PLAY SET FOR DATE IN MARCH

Tryouts for the cast of fourteen for the annual Junior play at the high school are now under way and are expected to be completed by Tuesday next.

The vehicle is Fred Jackson's three-act comedy, "A Full House" and the play will be presented at the school auditorium on Thursday evening, March 18.

Mrs. Lillian Davey, Junior class advisor, is director and coach and is being assisted in the business management by Miss Elizabeth Harper and Harry Wolf, also class advisors.

H. N. T. Schultz and his stage lighting crew will have charge of the lighting effects.

Maclin Promoted In Oil Firm Rank

Friends here of George Maclin, son of Mrs. A. W. Maclin of this city, today learned with pleasure of his promotion from a position of station salesman to that of distributing salesman for the Shell Oil Company at Sacramento.

Announcement of Maclin's promotion was made by Louis Armes, Placerville manager of the company. Maclin is a graduate of the El Dorado County high school. He has been in the oil firm's employ since 1933, most of which time he was stationed in Sacramento.

Mrs. C. C. Tidd was in town Friday from Springvale.

THEY JUMP AT NIGHT—Among a cargo of monkeys, golden cobras and other creatures that arrived in Brooklyn, N. Y., on a ship from Africa, Chief Radio Operator Albert M. Vida brought these rare galagas for the New York zoo. Somewhat resembling a honey bear, these "bush babies" leap actively from branch to branch in trees—but they do it at night.

State Solons Near Recess

Gov. Merriam's 2-Year Budget Largest In History

SACRAMENTO (UP)—Conclusion of the first-half of the 52nd legislature January 22, was assured today after both Houses passed a resolution providing for the constitutional recess after meeting three weeks. The legislature will reconvene March 1.

The largest biennial budget ever submitted in California was studied in the wake of Governor Frank F. Merriam's optimistic prediction that revenues would be sufficient to pay increased expenses, retire a $19,000,000 deficit and leave a surplus of $21,000,000 in 1939.

He proposed a total expenditure of $446,466,507, an increase of $27,059,626 over the $419,406,881 spent by the state during the present biennium.

In addition to state monies required, he said $58,122,190 would be California's share of federal allocations, thereby making the grand total of expenditures in this state for 1937-39 $504,588,697.

Improved business conditions have caused state revenues to increase so materially that Merriam estimated the total income from taxes, fees and other money producing mediums would amount to $487,440,131 during the next two years if present taxes were left alone. This would be $40,937,624 more than necessary to balance the budget, or enough to retire a $19,000,000 deficit and leave a $21,000,000 surplus to delight the 1939 legislature and the governor elected in 1938.

"Scotty's" Source Of Money Revealed

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Death Valley Scotty's mysterious source of wealth, which his estranged wife seeks to tap in a separate maintenance action, today disclosed to be Albert M. Johnson, retired Chicago millionaire.

Johnson claimed that he has been supplying Scotty—whose real name is Walter F. Scott—with funds for more than 30 years.

"He repays me in laughs," Johnson declared. "I've paid his bills for years—and like it."

"Scotty hasn't a dime to my knowledge," the banker said. "If he owns a gold mine as Mrs. Scott claims, I don't know anything about it. All I know is that I have lent him a great deal of money over a 30-year period."

When informed that Scotty's automobile was registered to the Death Valley Mercantile Company, Johnson said, "I'm the Death Valley Mercantile Company."

SALMON FALLS MINE OPERATOR IN L. A. JAIL

Sheriff George M. Smith received a telegram Friday morning from the Chief of Police at Los Angeles reporting the arrest at that city of Charles F. Willard, former Salmon Falls mine operator.

Mr. Willard was arrested at the request of officials of this county in connection with the reported issuance of checks which were not honored and the settlement of claims for wages for labor placed against him in his mining operations.

The sheriff reported Mr. Willard's lawyer had been in communication with him and that the attorney was bending his effort to arrange bail for the accused.

Fathers, Sons Dinner To Be February 12

Anniversary Opens On Feb. 7; Finance Plan Follows

The annual Fathers' and Sons' dinner, given under the auspices of El Dorado County District of Boy Scouts, will be held on Lincoln's Birthday (February 12) at the Federated Church.

The dinner, which will be followed by a district Court of Honor, will be a highlight of the 26th Anniversary Week of the Boy Scout movement in general, and of the twentieth anniversary of the Boy Scout movement in Placerville.

Anniversary week opens on Sunday, February 7, which is Boy Scout Sunday, and on which day churches throughout the nation are asked to give special recognition to the day.

Monday, February 8, is the birth-date of Scouting and there will be a nationally broadcast radio program for which local plans are being advanced to have a mobilization of all Scouts and Scouters that they may listen to the program as a group.

Wednesday, February 10, a troop of Boy Scouts will present a special stunt on the stage of the Empire Theater; Friday night will be the dinner and Court of Honor and Saturday night, at the Empire Theater, there will be another stunt by a Boy Scout troop.

The district council is making plans for its annual finance campaign to open immediately following the Boy Scout anniversary week.

Thomas Maul is chairman of a committee for the Court of Honor and to obtain a speaker for the Fathers' and Sons' dinner and Mance H. Vaught heads the committee on tickets for the dinner, which will be available at the usual price, 40 cents or two for 75 cents.

All fathers and their sons, or boys which they may "adopt" for the evening are invited to attend the dinner.

Reports of Scoutmasters Frank Dayton, Jack Parsons, Don Hook, Sam Haras, and Elmer Porini, assistant Scoutmaster at Smith Flat, showed that the Boy Scout troops of the county are thriving and progressing with an increasingly large number of boys applying for the benefits of Boy Scout training.

Carl Fassetto, assistant area executive, was here to attend the Thursday night district meeting, held at the study of the Rev. Harold Morehouse, with a large attendance of district committee members.

Ormiston, Figure In Kidnaping, Succumbs

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Kenneth G. Ormiston, a leading figure in the sensational "kidnaping" of Evangelist Aimee Semple McPherson several years ago, died in a hospital today following an operation.

One of the allegations at the time Aimee disappeared in the ocean and reappeared in the middle of the Arizona desert was that she and Ormiston had occupied a "cottage" together at Carmel, California.

Ormiston, who was a radio technician, underwent an operation for appendicitis a few days ago.

GUARD AGAINST COLDS, ADVISED

WASHINGTON (UP)—Here are the suggestions of Surgeon-General T. Parran, Jr., to help the public avoid what he described as "rather widespread prevalence" of influenza:

Avoid crowded halls, stores, public conveyances or any kind of crowd.

Avoid chilling and fatigue.

Demand scrupulous cleanliness of dishes and utensils used in preparing and serving food in public eating places.

Avoid use of common towels, glasses, eating utensils or toilet articles.

If you have a cold and fever, however slight, go to bed and stay there until the fever has entirely disappeared.

Call a doctor if you think you have influenza.

If you've had the flu, don't return to work without approval of a physician.

Floods Sweep Middle West

Sections Of 5 States Inundated; Rains Swell Rivers

By UNITED PRESS

Floods swept over sections of five states today, forcing hundreds of farm families to flee from their homes and causing damage estimated at hundreds of thousands of dollars. Nero zero weather increased suffering in some areas.

Streams, fed by prolonged precipitation and melting ice, spilled from their banks and inundated thousands of acres of farm land in Eastern Missouri, Northern Kentucky, Southern Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

Farm families, waded ankle-deep in water and mud escaping from lowland homes. River dwellers watched helplessly as flood waters surged into their houses. Pneumonia and influenza epidemics were an added menace. Relief agencies prepared to help refugees.

Rainfall continued in the five states where tributaries of the Mississippi and Ohio Rivers passed flood stage. The U. S. weather bureau forecast rain for Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois today for Missouri tomorrow. Government officials in St. Louis and Memphis issued flood warnings.

Swollen rivers in Western Pennsylvania forced some to leave their homes. The worst flood scare was in the vicinity of Sharon, Pennsylvania. The Shenango River forced suspension of operations at several small manufacturing plants and caused a number of families to leave their homes at Wheatland, Pennsylvania.

Mail Order Sales Gain 16 Per Cent

NEW YORK (UP)—Record December retail sales boosted the 1936 gross figures of 23 of the country's largest mail order and chain stores to $2,550,016,028, an increase of more than 16 per cent above the 1935 comparative total of $2,184,276,279, a United Press roundup of sales reports revealed today.

Death Penalty Mandatory In Bill Offered

Six Suspects Held In Investigation Of Mattson Case

SACRAMENTO (UP)—Anyone convicted of a kidnapping which brought bodily harm to the victim would be sentenced to death if a bill introduced by Ernest O. Voigt, D., Los Angeles, is approved by the California legislature.

Voigt's bill would make the death sentence mandatory in kidnapping cases where bodily injuries were inflicted. The present law, making life imprisonment automatic, would apply to "ordinary" kidnapping cases.

HAYNES SURRENDERS

SEATTLE (UP)—Fred Orrin Haynes, former California convict, sought for questioning in connection with the kidnap-slaying of 10-year-old Charles Mattson, walked into Seattle police station today and calmly announced he was "not connected with the case."

"I don't want to get mixed up in this thing," he said.

Haynes was held for questioning by Federal Bureau of Investigation officers.

EVERETT, Wash. (UP)—Belief that the kidnaper-slayer of 10-year-old Charles Mattson still is hiding near Everett grew today as investigators accumulated new evidence indicating that virtually all phases of the crime occurred near this city.

Clothing, believed to have been worn by the Tacoma school boy when he was snatched from his home December 27, today was included with an abandoned automobile and a machinist's hammer as the three most important clues yet discovered since the boy's frozen body was found in a snow-covered field six miles south of here.

As G-Men received reports of numerous arrests of "suspects" throughout the west, they agreed that more than one person was involved in the crime.

At Casper, Wyoming, a hitch-hiker, was taken into custody. The man gave his name as Edward Wachowicz of Saginaw, Michigan, and said he had just come from San Francisco, where he had visited his wife.

Sacramento police held a 26-year-old former inmate of Washington state hospital for the insane. He was arrested in a Sacramento hotel after bank officials expressed their suspicion because of his "nervousness" when he deposited $80. A bank clerk noticed scratches on his face. At the police station, the man denied any knowledge of the crime.

At Ritzville, Washington, 70 miles southwest of Spokane, police held a man identified as Wilbur Porter, 41, as a "suspect." Officers said he admitted having been in Seattle, Tacoma and Everett recently, a bloody handkerchief was found in his possession. His fingerprints and photograph were sent to federal agents here.

Two men still were held for investigation at Olympia. One suspect was an ex-convict supposedly connected with the burglary of a home in the Mattson neighborhood. The other admitted having worked as a gardener in the same neighborhood.

MOVEMENTS TRACED

Mrs. Wachowicz said her son had intended meeting his estranged wife, who had been staying at Los Angeles. The mother showed police a post card from her son mailed at El Paso, Texas, January 5. The Mattson boy disappeared December 27.

Parent Education Progress

One of the most socially constructive activities in the United States is the progress being made in parent education. Thousands of parents are joining study groups throughout the country, according to reports reaching the U. S. Office of Education, Department of the Interior, at Washington.

Parent education has progressed to such an extent that in many cities full-time directors are employed by the local boards of education to guide the processes of this new field. Trained leaders, acceptable to study groups, outline subject matter for discussion and also make personal contacts with parents.

Included among the cities whose boards of education employ full-time directors of this work are Albany, Binghamton, and Schenectady, N. Y., Dallas and Houston, Texas, and Pasadena, California.

SMITHS FLAT NOTES

Richard White, who has been confined to his home on account of illness, is able to be around again and it's good to see him.

Charles Fossati delivered a load of powder to the Grizzly Flat section on January 7. He reports the roads in pretty rough condition due to the heavy snows. Residents of Grizzly Flat report temperatures of one degree above zero with a snow depth of 20 inches. Robert Wentz accompanied Charles on the trip.

Mrs. Jacquier is sailing January 18 for an extended tour of the world.

Lecturer Agnes Blair presented a playlet entitled "Hoboes" which was very well received by the audience. Those in the cast were Mrs. Blair, Walter Blair, William Stultz, Mrs. Flora Thomsen and Mrs. Leonard Gibson.

Officers elect and Grange members were asked to remember the joint installation at Coloma on January 12. Refreshments and dancing completed the evening.

Smith Flat Troop of Boy Scouts met Monday, Jan. 11 and were told that they had received their troop charter which is to be presented by Frank Dayton and his troop at a date to be set later.

Irvin Johnson announced plans for a "Major Bogo's Amateur Hour" on Thursday, January 21, at Fossati's Hall. There will be no admission charge but the proceeds of a candy sale will go toward purchasing a projector and sound equipment for school use.

The Smith Flat P. T. A. held their regular meeting Friday, Jan. 8. They decided to serve chocolate and soup to the school pupils.

Many residents report frozen and broken pipes due to the recent severe cold spell. The last cold spell that compares with this one was in 1932. Classes at Smith Flat school were dismissed Monday, Jan. 11 because of the lack of water due to frozen plumbing.

G. I. Stencil and family have moved to Smith Flat to make their home. Mrs. Charles Jacquier and Mrs. Kittie Jacquier attended a meeting of the Eastern Star lodge at Folsom last Monday.

PARADE OF SPORTS

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Writer)

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (UP)—The citizens of this little city are greatly excited these days, for there is a report about that James J. Braddock, the heavyweight boxing champion of the world, accompanied by Joe Gould and Bill Duffy, will visit here for a few days soon.

The excitement, I think, is natural, for after all it isn't every city that gets the chance to entertain the man who is credited with being able to shuck off his coat and bloody the nose of anyone who frets him. And when the Messrs Gould and Duffy are thrown in for good measure, as it were, a community really has something to awaken deep civic stirrings.

The party is scheduled to visit Mr. Jack Ginty, owner, operator and, by seniority and talent, chief bouncer of the Chateau Lido. The Chateau Lido really was a chateau back in the boom days, and couples paid as high as fifty a throw for the privilege of dancing on one another's feet, inside it. But all one has to do now to pass through its portals is to keep the shirt-sleeves rolled down and have a few dimes to pay for dances, which cost just that.

But I doubt if Mr. Dinty, try as he may, will be able to keep James J. Braddock and the Messrs Gould and Duffy to himself. The best citizens—particularly the rich, best citizens—will demand that Mr. Dinty slice up his guests, so to speak, and allow others to cut in on the hospitality. There is nothing, I suppose, that sets the red corpuscles of hospitality whirling through the slightly hardened arteries of our rich, best citizens than a heavyweight champion.

Show them a man who, thanks to a battery of knuckles set level in his hands, a rope ladder of muscles down his back, a nose that won't yell "uncle," and a voice grown slightly whiskey-tenorish because of punches on the Adam's apple, has achieved the championship, and they'll put three more stripes on the butler's vest, dust the cobwebs off the port, and add three inches to the lathstring.

The only other group which is just as violently "carried away" by a boxing champion as the rich, best citizens, is the guild of barbers. If a clock could be held on the rich, best citizens and the barbers to determine which went to pieces more quickly in the presence of a champion, I think a dead heat would be the result.

The rich, best citizens show their appreciation of a champion by bringing out the best in rare foods and wines. The barber shows his by bringing out his rare tonics and lotions for his idol's face and scalp.

I thought I had smelled all the sickening violence that could come from a barber's assortment of brightly-labeled bottles until one day I accompanied Max Baer into a barber shop. Max was champion at the time and was a great man for playing all the bottles and jars a barber had standing in the cupboard.

The barber, who was all in a flutter, gave Baer a sample squirt from every jug in sight and then, with the flair of the true host, went in a back room for the exotic, treasured decanters. No wine connoisseur ever poured brandy with more pride and love than this barber did his dandruff killer.

When Baer finally stepped from the chair and was bowed out the door into the sunshine, a great wake of odor followed him. Actually, it was so strong as to be almost visible.

VOLCANOVILLE NOTES

As this is written (Monday) it is snowing hard and there is already plenty of snow on the ground, thirty to 36 inches on the level.

Mr. Beebe, of the Jennie Bee mine was held here by the storm, having had to leave his car at Otter Creek after an unsuccessful attempt to get out. He left for his home in San Rafael as soon as possible.

He returned Saturday night bringing supplies for the mine. Two men are there at the present time. Miss Ruth Rodseth, of Sacramento, spent part of the holidays here with her grandmother, Mrs. Amy Moucks.

There is no news here to speak of now, everything is quiet because of the snow.

The men living near the old Mattress place and Jay French and son on Cock Robin point are unable to get their cars out and have quite a trip breaking a trail to Volcanoville.

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (UP)—Doctors gave the Weir triplets a better than even chance to survive. The babies, all boys and weighing a total of nearly 10 pounds, were born Wednesday to Mrs. James Weir, 25, whose husband hasn't had a steady job since they were married in 1935.

GEORGETOWN

Mesdames Alice Flynn, Alta Douglas and Ethel Irish, applicants for the Georgetown postmastership, were in Placerville Saturday for the purpose of taking the examination required for filling the position.

Alice Flynn is the acting postmistress.

The Proof of CATERPILLAR Superiority

The first "Caterpillar" Diesel was introduced in 1931. Since that time it has steadily grown in popularity because of Diesel economy plus rugged "Caterpillar" dependability and long life.

1931-1 "Caterpillar" Diesel	1934-33 "Caterpillar" Diesels
1932-None	1935-34 "Caterpillar" Diesels
1933-18 "Caterpillar" Diesels	1936-101 "Caterpillar" Diesels

101 sales of "Caterpillar" Diesels in 1936 are about one and one-quarter times as many sales as in the preceding five years—A SPLENDID PROOF OF "CATERPILLAR" DIESEL ECONOMY AND PERFORMANCE.

KELSEY NOTES

The holidays brought about the usual number of homecomings and family reunions with the accompaniment of turkey dinners.

Mrs. Hattie Bennett's family party brought together Dudley Bennett and wife of Richmond; Elizabeth, of Sacramento, where she is employed in a state department; Lauren, of Butte's Forum Cafe, in Placerville, together with her four children at home.

The Will Kelly's reunion brought Will Kelly, Jr., and wife of Pacific Ranger Station; Eleanor, of Sacramento, an employee of the Fidelity Title Insurance Company; Margaret Kelly, Bill Griffith, of the Sacramento County clerk's office, and Mr. and Mrs. Ward Brooke, of State Mountain mine.

At the Kenzie home were Mr. and Mrs. Daniels, daughter and son-in-law; Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Stover, of Yakima, Wash. The Stovers are now in Los Angeles and Long Beach and may return to Northern California to locate.

James Callan and wife, of New York, his sister, Rose Callan Beasley, of Los Angeles, and son, visited the Kellys on Christmas Day. James and Rose were raised in Kelsey and are cousins of the Kellys.

Josie Lauman, who is in the Long Beach public schools department, spent the holidays with her aunt, Bessie Smith. Josie attended Kelsey school and was a graduate of El Dorado County high school.

Alice and Helen Lessley, of San Francisco, spent Christmas with their parents, John Lessley and Mrs. Lessley. Charles Smith, who was taken to Placerville Sanatorium for an emergency operation, has returned and is now able to do light work, having almost completely recovered.

Mrs. Quiggle, who has been quite ill at her home in Spanish Flat, had her two sons and daughter return from Bakersfield to be with her and Mr. Quiggle for the holidays.

J. Perry Morris and wife had a visit from the stork, a boy, their fourth, on Monday, December 28. At that time the snow was fifteen inches deep on the hills east of Kelsey where they are located on a mining claim.

Professor Everett Horn, of the biological survey at Berkeley, and Mrs. Horn and daughter, Margaret, were visitors at the Kelly home recently. Professor Horn was called to meet with a committee at the Institute of Forest Genetics, east of Placerville. Mrs. Horn as Eunice Wilson taught in Richmond Grammar school with Mrs. Kelly, where they were intimate friends.

The "freeze" January 6, 7, and 8 came down with full force in the Kelsey district. No water in the ditch, pipes from wells were frozen to bursting and in one home the ice on the pipes lifted a basin from the wall, dropping it on the floor of the bathroom. The ice also lifted one end of the bath tub two inches.

And, strange as it may seem, at the Captain W. I. Bell home on the Gopher Boulder Hill, no damage was done to pipes and plants on the front veranda did not freeze. Neither did water in their car radiator freeze.

Charles Wilkinson has hauled several loads of junk to Oakland. Looks like the days of 1917 to see all scrap iron being gathered.

The people of the North Side are most thankful to Senator Pietyovich for his request to the state highway engineer to eliminate the very dangerous double curve near the Jennings place in Kelsey district. The canal has been piped; the road widened so that two cars can pass along the former narrow and hidden turns.

LOTUS

The past week we sure have had some mighty cold weather. On Thursday and Friday morning the mercury registered 16 degrees between 6 and 7:30 o'clock and during those two days it stood 40 degrees all day. Those are the two coldest days we have had since January 1932. We also had some low temperatures during the months of January and February 1889 when the mercury was somewhat below the figures for this year. Now as the weather has changed to rain, perhaps the cold frosty mornings will let up for a while. We look for some very cold weather during the next month.

A whist party is scheduled to take place at Coloma Community hall this coming Friday night. The party is being given by the farm bureau ladies of Gold Hill, Coloma and Lotus. There will be prizes and refreshments.

Snow on the hills around our town Monday morning. This is the second time we have had snow this year. The first snow came December 30.

Hector Williamson has completed his concrete work on the bridge at Coloma and the county has finished the filling in at this end. In a few days the bridge will be open to the public for travel. Hector has sure done a very nice piece of work on this bridge, as he has done in all his work throughout the county during the past years.

E. J. McKenney, wife and son, Elwin, came up from Sacramento Friday evening and early Saturday Earl Coplin and wife arrived at the mine and Saturday both men worked in the mine, all returning to their homes Sunday evening.

Dudley Freeland and wife came up from Sacramento the past week to look after their property interests here. They found everything all O. K. under the supervision of their caretaker, Jerry Ahlstrom, and returned to their home the next day.

George Pountain and wife returned from their trip to Oakland last Thursday evening. Mrs. Pountain had intended to remain a while but changed her mind and came home with her husband. Minnie says the weather was so cold in the city she concluded to come home and we wonder if she finds it warmer here than in Oakland.

Mrs. Lottie Galleher, our accommodating postmistress and owner of our Red and White store has recently purchased a new Dodge four-door sedan and on Sunday afternoon took Mrs. Violet Reaside, Mrs. Florence Hines and two children out for a ride up to Coloma where the ladies attended a meeting of the ladies from Granite Hill and Coloma which was held for the purpose of appointing committees for the supper, music, tickets and dance which is to take place at the hall on Saturday night, January 23, commemorating the anniversary of the discovery of gold at Coloma.

Ted Wentworth, son of Guy Wentworth, came up from Sacramento Sunday last and spent a short time visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bacchi.

Constable Gil Cook and Supervisor Breedlove, of Georgetown, were in our town Sunday looking after business matters. We did not ask them what they were after, fearing we might be turned down. Anyway come again boys, you're always welcome.

George Balderston visited with Milton Smith near Kelsey the past week and purchased a violin from Mr. Smith, who has made a number of the instruments and sells them right along. Milton and George are somewhat musicians and we wonder if they will in the future play for dances. They ought to get Charles Rasmussen and his old banjo with them and the three together would make some good old-time music.

CAMEL SPARED

ST. JOSEPH, MO. (UP)—Instead of shooting old Tom, the camel that killed his keeper, the park board decided to keep him in the zoo. T. H. Riggs-Miller, parks superintendent, said the decision was a profitable one, for the animal will be sheared in the spring and his hair sold for brushes. "He looks like he had about $1,000 worth of hair," Riggs-Miller said.

mento for the week-end and visited his sister, Mrs. Amy Grother, of this place, and also his brother, George, of Coloma.

Mr. and Mrs. William Kawelmacher and daughter, of near Garden Valley, were here visiting friends the past week.

Loring Pendleton, of Georgetown, was also in our town Sunday, showing off the new Plymouth sedan which he had just bought.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Lawyer went over to Placerville Sunday evening to attend a card party given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grover. Mrs. Grover is a sister of Mrs. Lawyer.

Mrs. Thomas Mooney came up from her Napa home and visited with her daughter, Mrs. G. H. Metcalfe, in Coloma, for a few days the past week. Dudley Davenport, of Garden Valley, was attending to business matters in our town Saturday.

Fred Luneman, after spending a two-week holiday vacation visiting with his friends at Palo Alto, returned Saturday evening. Fred was brought home by some of his Sacramento friends and reports he very much enjoyed the trip and the visit.

COOL NOTES

Miss Eleanor Leach and Forest De Albers drove to Reno on New Year's Day and were married. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Leach, of Cool. She attended Pilot Hill and Cave Valley schools, later graduating from Placerville Union High school at Auburn. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. DeAlbers, of Auburn. The young couple will make their home on the family ranch near Auburn. We join their many friends in best wishes. For the past week the high school bus has been driven by Raymond Niegel, due to the illness of his cousin, Delbert Niegel, the regular driver.

The snow and cold weather of last week did considerable damage of water pipes, pressure pumps and radiators in this vicinity. Penobscot district reports 5 inches of snow and temperatures as low as 8 degrees. Cool was slightly warmer and the snow measured only about an inch. Pilot Hill has only patches on the higher spots and the mercury did not drop below 12 degrees.

GARDEN VALLEY

Mrs. Millie Van De Water and Mrs. Jack Lessley were in Placerville Saturday on business.

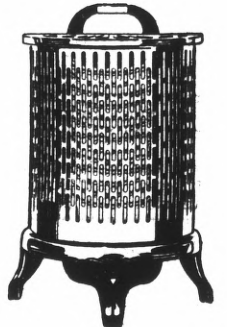

The Garden Valley school trustees have fitted up an extra room and added an extra teacher, Miss Rashell Moscow. She teaches first, second and third grades, in which there are a total of eighteen pupils. Miss French has the fourth to seventh grades with 22 pupils making in all 40 pupils enrolled in the school.

A shower was held at Pilot Hill schoolhouse Saturday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest DeAlbers. Many useful and beautiful gifts were received by the newlyweds from their many friends in this section.
